FRENCH TROOPS HOLDING GROUND

Germans Try to Retake Positions Near Verdun.

DEADLY COMBAT CONTINUES

Heavy Masses of German Troops Are Being Thrown Against the Picked French Soldiers Who Recaptured Most of Fort Douaumont.

London, May 24.—The Germans have replied to the terrific French offensive in the Douaumont region with assault after assault and the deadly combat northeast and northwest of Verdun is still in progress.

Heavy masses of German troops have been thrown against the picked French troops, whose successful attacks won for them the greater portion of Fort Douaumont.

These newly captured positions the French have tenaciously held. Particular mention is made by the French war office of the maintenance of the position in Fort Douaumont, conquered by the French Monday.

Fighting at this point is characterized by Paris as "a murderous struggle." Each attack was preceded by powerful artillery preparations.

Although they were hard held to the northeast the Germans would not be denied at Dead Man's hill and after having been moved down by the French artillery and machine guns with sanguinary losses in several attacks, finally gained a footing in trenches to the west of this much fought for position.

Their tenure in the trenches was short lived, however, for the French in a counter attack immediately drove them out.

Italy's first anniversary of her entry into the war found her troops on at least one sector in southern Tyrol forced back by the great Austrian offensive upon Italian soil, and in general retirement to their main lines of defense from the region south of Rovereto to the Val Sugana, southeast of Trent.

Rome admits that between the Asio and Brenta rivers and in the Sugana valley the Italians have fallen back on their main lines of defense.

While Rome asserts that the operation was carried out in perfect order after the Italians had repulsed Austrian attacks against the advanced lines, Vienna says that in the retreat from Borgo the Italians were forced across the border by the Austrians.

That the Austrians have advanced as far as the head of Lake Garda and the Sarca region is indicated by the Rome official communication which says that Austrian troops assemblages have been observed in the Riva zone.

IRISH MEMBERS TURBULENT

Create Row in Commons Over Internment of Rebels.

London, May 24.—A series of questions to the cabinet ministers with regard to the treatment of Irish prisoners arrested during the revolution in Ireland gave rise to a controversy among Irish members in the house of commons.

John O'Connor, known as "Long John," said he had found some interned who were being well treated.

Mr. Healy made some remarks which could not be heard and O'Connor walked from his seat toward him, saying: "What's that you say?"

Healy made no reply and O'Connor's colleagues forced him back to his own seat.

30,000 CARRANZISTAS TO PURSUE BANDITS

Washington, May 24.—Reports to both the state and war departments further indicated plans of the Carranza government to prosecute pursuit of Chihuahua outlaw bands vigorously while the American forces remain comparatively quiescent.

Closely following news of withdrawal from Mexico of the second American punitive expedition, sent from Boquillas, Tex., under Colonel Sibley and Major Langhorne, information reached the state department that General Obregon has ordered 30,000 troops to engage in the bandit hunt in Chihuahua and along the Big Bend border.

State department officials said that receipt of the new note being prepared by General Carranza was not expected before next week.

But Austrian Emperor Says Central Powers Will Win.

Copenhagen, May 24.—Emperor Franz Joseph, interviewed by a correspondent of the Dabedblad, praised his troops for their successes in the great Austrian offensive, but said it would be a mistake to underestimate the prowess of the Italians.

"They have proved exceedingly brave," said the aged emperor.

Franz Joseph, the correspondent said, was absolutely confident of the ultimate triumph of the central powers.

CHURCHILL MAKES REPLY TO ASQUITH

London, May 24.—Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, who has been opposing the government in the house of commons since his return from the front, was the first speaker in the general debate initiated by Premier Asquith's motion for the eleventh vote of credit.

Mr. Churchill expressed regret that Mr. Asquith had not reviewed the general strategic situation and said it was unreasonable for people to expect the war to turn suddenly and decisively in favor of the allies. The contending armies were far too evenly matched at the present time to permit of such a change.

The frequency of the German and Austrian attacks on all parts of the front might be a sign of the measure of their strength, Mr. Churchill said, but it might also be a sign of the measure of their profound anxiety. If the Germans were beaten decisively they would be beaten by lack of men, and accordingly the best use must be made of the men now being called to the British army.

Colonel Churchill suggested the abolition of officers' servants and grooms and careful consideration of cavalry regiments. He pointed out that there were 200,000 officers in the army, with an equal number of servants and 60,000 grooms, an army in itself.

READS GUILTY TO MURDER

Grand Forks Man Is Given Life Sentence in Prison.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 24.—Harry Smith, confessed murderer of Mrs. Mary Cain, entered a plea of first degree murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment. In a signed statement to States Attorney O. H. Burtness, Smith admitted everything in connection with the crime. He said he told Mrs. Cain if he ever found her with Harry White, of whom he was jealous, he would kill her, and that he went to the woman's house with the intention of killing her.

SENATE STANDS BY ACTION

Refuses to Reconsider Confirmation of G. Rublee.

Washington, May 24.—Administration efforts to have the senate reconsider its refusal to confirm the nomination of George Rublee of New Hampshire as a member of the federal trade commission failed by a tie vote, 38 to 38.

Rublee's defeat has revived reports that former Representative Frederick C. Stevens of St. Paul may be invited to be a member of the commission. President Wilson has a high regard for Mr. Stevens. He was barred when the commission was organized because of holding a seat in congress.

FAVORABLE SIGN FOR EARLY PEACE

European Leaders Are Willing to Be Quoted.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS SILENT

Latest Interview With German Imperial Chancellor Is Believed to Be Basis on Which Negotiations to End the War May Start From.

Washington, May 24.—In official and diplomatic circles Karl H. von Wiegand's interview with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, giving the official German view of the peace outlook, was read and discussed with absorbing interest.

High administration officials declined to discuss the German chancellor's interview on the ground that anything they said might be misconstrued.

Members of the cabinet have followed closely every statement attributed to high officials of the belligerent governments touching on peace and possible peace terms.

While calling attention to the wide divergence between these views coming out of Berlin, London and Paris, a high administration official said they form conclusive evidence that the possibility of reaching some agreement is in the minds of responsible men in the belligerent capitals.

This official said that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's statement of the basis on which Germany is willing to discuss peace is about what disinterested persons would expect.

With Premier Briand of France announcing that Prussian militaryism must be crushed before the allies can consider peace and Sir Edward Grey sending out similar statements from London, this official said, Germany could not reasonably be expected to demand anything less than a discussion of peace on the basis of the world's war map.

Officials here, however, see a glimmer of hope in the persistence with which responsible officials in belligerent capitals talk about peace.

Prominent government officials in Washington think that the statement secured by Von Wiegand is a definite step toward peace. They feel that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg has given something tangible to work on.

FOOD DICTATOR FOR GERMANY IS NAMED

Berlin, May 24.—"The adequate nourishment of our population is fully assured and will not be rendered doubtful by any blockade regulations of enemy states, no matter how unscrupulous they may be and no matter how long the war may last," says the semi-official North German Gazette in an announcement of the creation of a food dictatorship with sweeping powers.

"However, the short harvest of 1915, together with reduced imports, have resulted in a food scarcity in some directions which makes itself acutely felt.

"Efforts to better conditions have been hindered because each federal state has made independent regulations. This will now be corrected by a centralization of power."

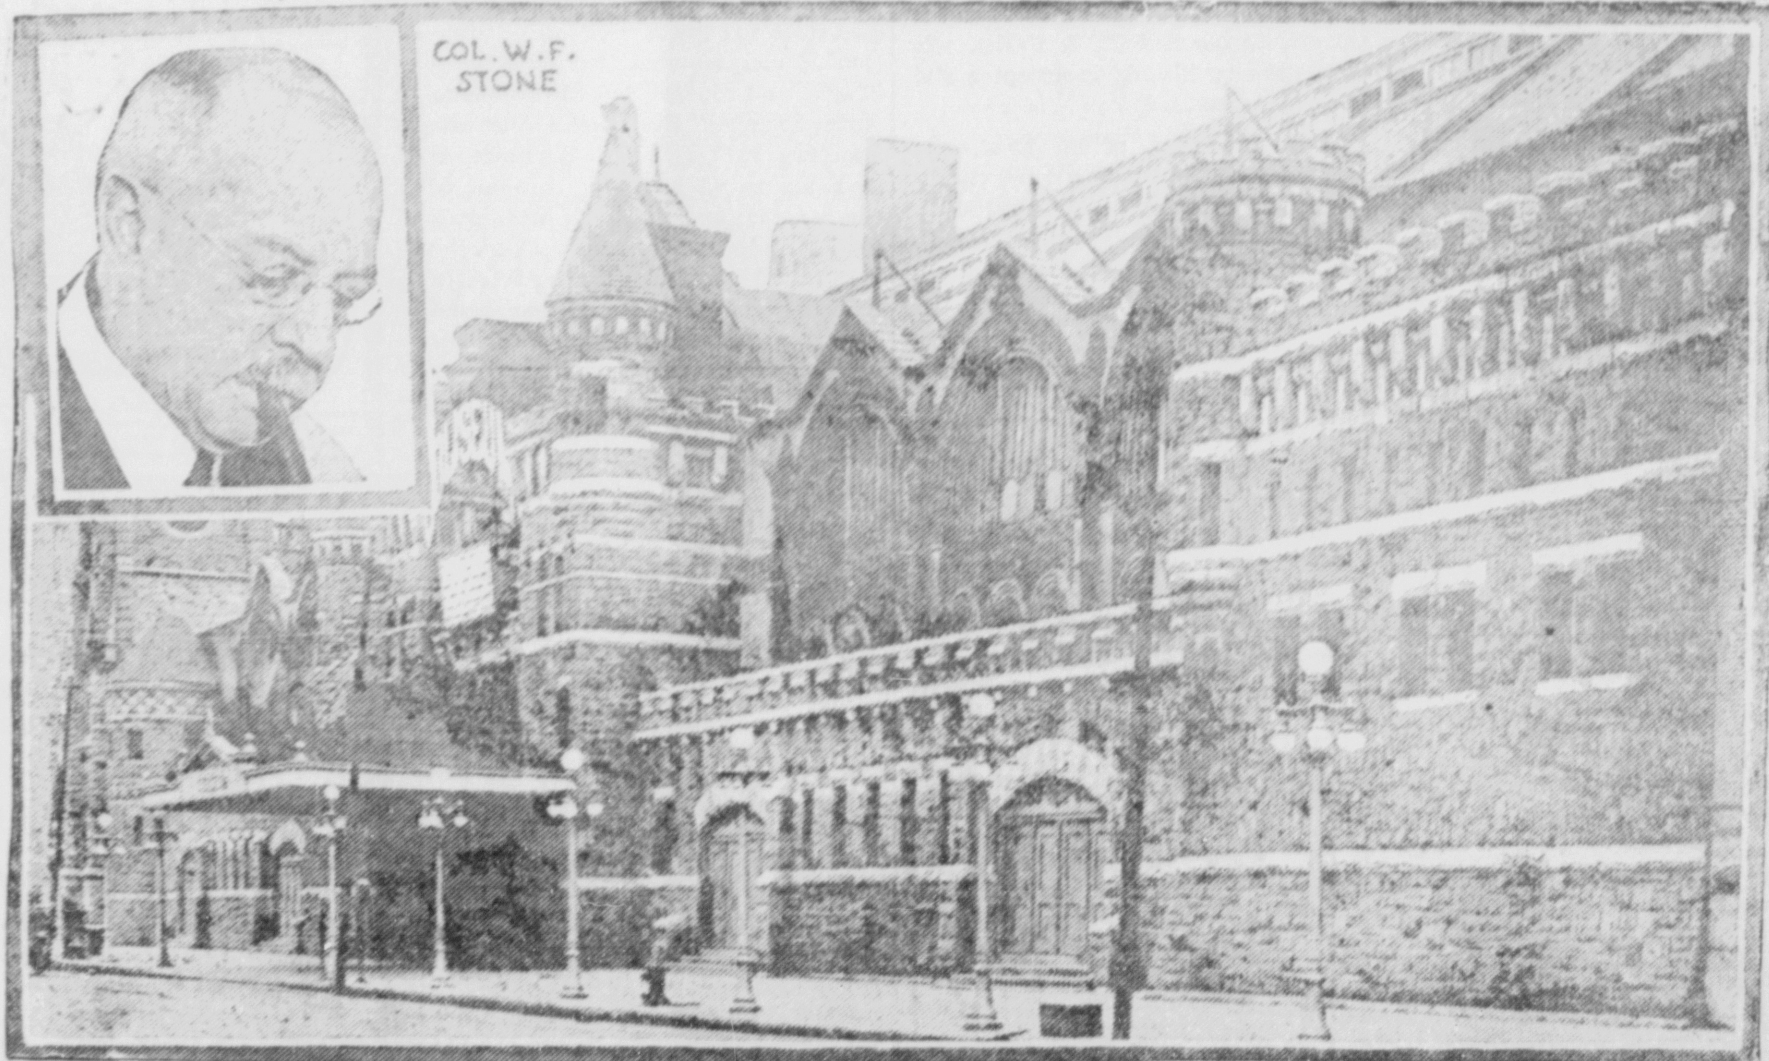

Probably never before have such sweeping powers been concentrated as are now granted Herr von Battocki, the new food dictator.

Various counselors will be assigned to him, representing agriculture, trade, the military and the consumers.

Thrifty Best War Preparedness.

St. Louis, May 24.—A period of unequalled prosperity for the United States at the conclusion of the European war was predicted by W. C. He emphasized the importance of individual thrift as a measure of preparedness for war.

It is a stirring plea for a pure life before marriage, in order to make impossible the transmission of hereditary taints to future generations.

It follows the idea inculcated in law in Wisconsin, that the marriage ceremony should include a guarantee of bodily fitness. At present, it is generally the case that no girl is safe while the standard of double morals exists.

The all-star cast of "Damaged Goods" will appear on the screen and this includes Richard Bennett as George Dupont, Adrienne Morrison as a girl of the streets, William Bertram

WOMAN'S REALM

Mrs. J. H. Hammond
Hostess to 30,000

(By United Press)

New York, May 24.—Perhaps the most striking feature on today's program of the biennial conference of the Federated Women's clubs of America here is the luncheon, served in the mammoth Seventh Regiment armory, at which Mrs. John Hays Hammond is hostess to 30,000 American clubwomen and a group of Washington society women.

Mrs. Hammond is not a clubwoman but because of her work as chairman of the executive council of the Woman's Welfare Department of the National Civic Federation, she was made chairman of the Advisory committee of the Federation.

"We are not here to entertain in a vacuous way for the giddy, skittish, gabbling women," said Mrs. Hammond today, "but we are entertaining the best and most thoughtful women of the country, many of whom had to make great personal sacrifice to get here and who are seriously concerned with bettering conditions that so sorely need bettering among us."

"I am particularly interested in the establishment of a World Court such as is now under consideration and in which women and their interests should play a big part."

"History is in the making. Shall it again chronicle that woman has left her paradise to be guarded solely by the flaming sword? If swords are needed, we must have swords and plenty of them. Events have shown that to be unprepared is to invite disaster, but swords and guns and armament of war are only the primitive needs of a nation."

"The home is the citadel of our national life. To safeguard its strength, to protect its moral soundness, to keep high the glorious banners of our national ideals; these are the duties which call to American women today."

"Men of America, let us give you help. In the name of American womanhood I offer you our service. Take us into your councils as we must certainly share in your sorrows if mistakes be made."

Mrs. Hammond's is one of the biggest luncheons ever given. Just imagine how much of a job it would be to supply each guest with nothing more than a glass of water. Thirty thousand glasses of water, 30,000 knives and 30,000 forks, 30,000 plates of soup and 30,000 napkins, ninety thousand spoons and maybe 250,000 to 300,000 dishes.

Pity the poor dishwasher on a day like this!

The luncheon is being staged in the armory, probably the only place in New York large enough for it to be staged. And staged exactly describes it.

Woman's World

Newly Elected Treasurer of
New York State Suffrage Party.

MRS. OGDEN MILLS REID.

"Ever since I was a girl at Barnard college," says Mrs. Reid, "I have had the feeling that life outside the home was incomplete without woman's direct contribution to the making of public affairs. This is an age of specialization, and if women specialize in anything it is in a sense of the value of human life."

"This idea of conserving life as the best investment any state can make is needed in political affairs. I believe in all the other arguments for enfranchising women, but this seems to me the most urgent. Woman's own specialties, those things which make up her peculiar province, such as guardianship of home and children and her better knowledge of housekeeping, are needed to make up a good world for men and women just as much as man's knowledge of business and finance is needed. Men have surely realized that women have had success in their own province. Why should they deny the world the value of this special skill? This great mass of influence and expert knowledge could be used for mankind. It should so be used."

Born in Appleton, Wis., Mrs. Reid is a true western woman. She has the point of view which sees the United States as stretching from coast to coast and not as a thin line along the Atlantic seaboard. As one who has herself been a wage earning woman she believes in woman's economic independence. "I certainly hope my daughter will have this same wholesome experience, for I believe every girl should be given the chance to earn her own living," she says.

She voices the newer call for woman's political freedom not alone because women are denied a privilege when the ballot is withheld from them, but because the world needs the enfranchisement of its women and because politics as well as domestic life needs her point of view.

Sleepy Time Story About an Extremely Ugly Looking Fly.

DEVIL'S DARNING NEEDLE.

Many Evil Deeds Attributed to This Insect Are Without Foundation—interesting Items For Little Folk—Puzzles to Solve.

Uncle Ben was ready with a story when bedtime came around. He told about THE DRAGON FLY.

Don't be afraid of this wicked looking insect, no matter how many fierce and wild stories you have heard told about him. He isn't half so wicked as he looks. And, as for his voracious habits, the only things he eats are mosquitoes and flies and gnats, not to mention many other pests you would like the world rid of. He's called properly the dragon fly.

Maybe you know him better as the devil's darning needle. Perhaps you've been told when you were a baby boy or girl that he would get in your hair and sew your ears shut, or maybe you've been calling him snake feeder. He gets this name probably because the female dragon fly when she lays her eggs glides down on top of the stream or lake and drops them in the water, as if she were feeding water snakes.

These eggs stick fast to water plants until the larvae hatch, crawl out of the water, split up the back, and behold—other dragon flies!

It will take more time and patience than the amateur bug collector possesses to get acquainted with the whole dragon fly family. There are something like 2,200 specimens, so authorities tell us, and 300 of these fly around in North America.

What the hawks and eagles are to birds the dragon flies are to mosquitoes and flies. Imprison a dragon fly in a room and the flies and mosquitoes will disappear. So, you see, he isn't such a bad bug after all.

Taffeta Skirts that Speak of days gone by

You will readily recognize in the Spring skirt styles, especially the silks, the dainty charm of Fashions of long ago.

The flowing lines are suggestive of the courtly minuet but, of course, there is the note of the new you will always find here.

This modern touch may be ever so slight, but it is there. The tailoring, of course, is vastly improved over the old days.

Cloth skirts in handsome Poplins and Serges, Gabardines, black and whites, and other checks which have the distinction of a touch of color. Some of these checks reveal a dainty shading of green, others stand out in rookie brown.

There's hardly any place to which you cannot wear your taffeta skirt, and just now we invite your inspection, particularly because stocks are so new and complete.

Petticoats With Slim Taffeta Suspensers, Organdie Frocks are Truly Bewitching

A smart Parisienne was recently observed wearing a hat with a very novel type of trimming. The hat itself was a broad brimmed affair of Italian straw, only a shade darker than the hair of the fair wearer, and just at the front of the black silk crown trembled a crystal flower with a crystal pendant falling from its center.

Paquin has a new whim in connection with petticoats. A very pretty model is made of taffeta in the glowing shades of the pigeon's throat, scalloped at the bottom and trimmed with festoon frills of the same material. It is hung upon slim taffeta suspenders, made exactly as a man's suspenders, except that where they are attached to the narrow waist band tiny flat pump bows of the taffeta cover the joining.

Paquin has gone in enthusiastically for organdie frocks this season, and some of her new creations in this delicate texture are truly bewitching. She makes a lovely gown of mauve organdie with white collar and cuffs, and a belt of dark blue and citron colored ribbon to which at the front are caught a dark blue and a yellow rose. Another Paquin frock, quaint as it can be, is made of white organdie trimmed with dark brown tulle. The tulle is applied in three deep festoons on the skirt, and in little frills at the edge of the surplice collar and the sleeves.

Another smart hobby of Paquin's is for white pique tailored suits. These are not made of the ordinary striped pique but of a newer type of pique in honeycomb effect. One suit of this type is made with a very full flaring skirt, trimmed at the bottom with an ornamental border made up of cordings of the pique. The jacket of this suit is rather short, flaring out below the waist-line, where it too is trimmed with a corded border and fastening at the middle of the front under corded motifs of white pique.—From H. W. Gosard Corset Co., courtesy H. P. Michael Co.

How the Russian Fisher Maids' Brigade Got to the Front

Petrograd, May 24.—The spirit that animates Russian women to fight was shown among the fisher-folk colony at Novgorod recently when Pelegaya Mandrin returned wounded from her regiment after fighting in seven actions. She recruited seventy warriors among the fisher-folk and when General Kuropatkin arrived from his estate at Pakoff she fell on her knees before him and implored him to allow the fisher girls' brigade to go to the front. Kuropatkin refused because women are "not allowed" in the Russian army. So they cut off their long hair, dressed as men and scattered themselves among the troops over the thousands and miles front. These fisher-girl warriors rely on the unwritten law of Russian regiments for their protection.

The Fine Arts Film company presents Orrin Johnson in "The Price of Power." John Belmont (Orrin Johnson), who is an ambitious young mechanic, devises a system of efficiency for the New England cotton mill, where he works. His plan is lightly brushed aside by the owner. Belmont marries Jennie, a mill operative, and a child is born to them. He deserts his family, goes south and becomes a mill owner. He takes the name of John Roberts, acquires the New England mill and returns to his old home. He has married a society woman named Pauline and their grown-up son is an idler and spendthrift. Roberts is not recognized by his old associates because of a beard and other changes in his appearance. Roberts loses his mind, becomes a tramp and is known as "Daffy." He robs his own house, but the tramps get the money. He goes into the mill and is taken into the home of his first son's sweetheart and her father. Dave, the son, marries the girl and they leave for another town, where the prospects are better. Friendless, the once powerful magnate works and suffers under the cruel system he has devised for others.

IT'S SEVEN YEARS OLD

But Mr. Ellison Says It's Just as Good Today as When it Was First Made

Seven years ago Mr. Ellison testified to complete relief from kidney ills.

He now says that there has not been the slightest return of the trouble.

Brainerd sufferers will take a deal of comfort in Mr. Ellison's statement. Read what he says: Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and seemed to be gradually getting worse. I was taken with such awful pains in my back that I had to go to bed. Medicine patched me up somewhat and I got out in a few weeks, but I continued to suffer severely. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and a few boxes put me in good shape." (Statement given September 1st, 1908.)

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER, Mr. Ellison said: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit I got has lasted."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ellison has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

STATE GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES AND THEIR HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

(Prepared by the Minnesota Historical Society for the United Press)

Martin County

Three different explanations have been offered as to the origin of the name of this county established in 1857. The most plausible of these is that the name was proposed by General Sibley, in honor of his friends, Morgan Lewis Martin of Green Bay, Wisconsin, who was a delegate in congress from Wisconsin territory in 1846 and who, on December 23 of that year, introduced a bill for the organization of Minnesota territory. Martin was a resident of Green Bay from 1827 to 1887, and was prominently identified with the history of Wisconsin. It has been asserted that the county was named in honor of Hon. Martin McLeod, but McLeod county having been named in his honor the previous year, makes this quite improbable. It is possible, however, that it was named in honor of Henry Martin, a Connecticut man, who purchased for himself and his associates about two thousand acres of land in southeastern Minnesota in 1856, and visited the chain of lakes in Martin county on hunting and fishing expeditions. One of these lakes was unquestionably named for him.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW

The question as to whether Brainerd shall be wet or dry does not enter into the campaign for the suppression of blind pigs that has been going on in this city for some time. A majority of the people of this city said by their votes that the liquor traffic must cease, they voted out the saloons and by so doing made it illegal for any person to engage in the sale of liquor. The mayor of Brainerd is bound by his oath to uphold the law and see that it is enforced and Mayor Beise stated before he was elected to the position that no matter what the result of the "dry" campaign was that he would enforce the law as the people voted, and in the campaign for election he was not claimed by the advocates of either the wet or dry forces.

Mayor Beise has consistently endeavored to do this and as a result

ROOSEVELT KEEPS THEM GUESSING

Has Been Big Puzzle Ever Since He Entered Politics.

WHAT WILL HE DO NOW?

Will He Be Nominated at Chicago? Will He Support the Nominees?—Will He Head a Third Ticket?—These Are Some of the Questions That Republicans Will Have to Answer.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 24.—[Special.]—From the time Theodore Roosevelt appeared in politics he has kept somebody guessing, usually those interested in politics. When he was president everybody wondered what he would do next, and there was always some doubt as to just what position he would take in various states on political questions.

Even after his positive declaration that he would not be a candidate for president again there were four years of third term talk, and men continually boasted him for the place, and many believed that he would finally accept it.

The Republican party is now going to a national convention, and Roosevelt is still the big interrogation point. Will he be nominated? Will he support the nominee? Will he head a third ticket? And many other similar queries are heard on all sides.

Why Roosevelt Is Important.

Roosevelt's position becomes important because there is a general belief that what he does will determine the result in November. At least it is believed by everybody that he can make it impossible for the Republicans to win, just as he did four years ago. If Roosevelt refuses to support the nominee of the Republicans and runs independently or supports an independent ticket it is almost certain that Wilson will be re-elected. Once in awhile a Republican is heard to say that they can elect their candidate no matter what Roosevelt does, but there are few Republicans who would take any such position.

And so the most important thing in regard to the Republican convention—as important as the naming of the candidate—is the position that Roosevelt will take after the nomination is made.

Publicity Bills Wait.

All bills providing for greater publicity of campaign collections and expenditures and intended to prevent men interested in politics from spending money have been allowed to wait. It is not expected that they will pass in time to have any effect upon the coming elections. In fact, to have been of much effect they should have been passed long before the national conventions, although it appears that less money has been spent upon the preliminary canvass this year than ever before.

Newspaper Man and Financier.

Carter Glass, who before he came to congress devoted his entire time to publishing a newspaper at Lynchburg, Va., has developed into the leading financier in the house of representatives. Previous to the time Glass was made chairman of the committee on banking and currency it was almost impossible to get a measure out of that committee relating to the currency. Now a number of bills have been reported and one, the federal reserve act, is in operation. Another, the rural credits bill, is likely to be in operation before the end of the year.

Contests Not Important.

Although there are a great many contests from the south, as there are in every Republican convention, the settlement of these contests will not determine the result of the convention, as has happened several times before. There are men to this day who believe that the settlement of the contests from the south in 1896 secured the nomination of McKinley. There are others who went on record as saying that the steam roller methods in 1908 resulted in the nomination of Taft. And there is not the least question that the settlement of the contests in 1912 determined the nomination of the candidate. The contests this year have no bearing upon the success of any particular candidate.

"No Stopping Them."

"When a woman becomes interested in preparedness she stops at nothing," was the remark of a man at the capitol. "The women I know who are interested in preparedness are willing to go the whole length, and they write me that they not only want the government to be well prepared, but they are perfectly willing to have their sons enlisted and trained in the reserves for the defense of the country."

Thomas Has Been Learning.

Senator Thomas of Colorado told the senate the other day that he had learned much since he came to the senate. "I have learned that partisanship disappears when we look beyond our short lives," he said. "I have learned, too, that it disappears when we look toward the national treasury. The compelling reason I have also learned. It is that the people are in each situation behind us and are also without the domain of partisanship."

Curiously enough, a great many men clamoring for reforms and for reducing the expenditures of the general government forget that the people want those expenditures.

FREE SEEDS ARE CUT OUT

Agricultural Appropriation Bill Reported to Senate.

Washington, May 24.—The agricultural appropriation bill was reported by the senate committee, carrying $23,500,000, a reduction of nearly $750,000 from the total as passed by the house.

The committee cut in half $2,500,000 provided by the house for foot and mouth disease eradication and eliminated entirely $200,000 allowed for free distribution of seeds.

Railway Cashier Placed Under Arrest at St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 24.—Samuel W. Van Dyne, former cashier at the Missouri Pacific freight offices here, in whose accounts an alleged shortage of $75,000 was discovered, and Edward J. English, former assistant cashier under Van Dyne, were arrested here.

English is charged with embezzlement. Van Dyne is held for the district court without charge.

PAYROLL GRAFT IS BARED

Chicago Cheated Out of $1,000 a Month in Laborers' Wages.

Chicago, May 24.—A system of padded payrolls by which "laborers" on the roll at $2 a day appeared only on pay days, and said to have cheated the city out of $1,000 a month, was made public by the civil service commission.

Two Men Buy Mine.

Billings, Mont., May 24.—Charles d'Autenrent of Wickes and George W. Wilson of Butte have made final payment on the Washington mine at Wickes, and will operate it on an extensive scale. It is about a mile from one of Montana's most famous producers—the Alta, with a record of $2,000,000. The new owners have fifty men at work and are shipping from sixty to eighty tons of ore daily.

J. J. Opsahl's Railroad

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Minn., May 24.—Minnesota's political situation was today considered considerably clarified, following the withdrawal of Jens J. Opsahl, Bemidji, from the race for the nomination of congressman from the Sixth district. Opsahl, who himself admitted he would "get twenty dollars worth of fun out of it," probably would not have been nominated. He would however, have polled a fair vote, and might have pulled over quite a few votes of Beltrami and Koochiching county homesteaders, who disapprove of Bemidji say, swear by Opsahl because he made possible for them a residence in Minnesota.

Opsahl is going to put in all of his time building a railroad which the tentative plans say shall run from St. Paul to the Canadian border, through St. Cloud, Little Falls and Bemidji. The passage of the Nelson bill, throwing the Red Lake Indian reservation open to cultivation, makes 400,000,000 feet of timber available.

The road therefore will run north from Bemidji, possibly through the route of the present logging road running to Bemidji and thence skirting the swampy Red lake.

CONTEMPT DECISION TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY

Minneapolis, May 24.—After a hearing Judge Daniel Fish of the Hennepin county district court took under advisement charges of contempt of court against Albert F. Bastyr, foreman of the jury in the second trial of Joseph W. Bragdon.

He ordered Bastyr to appear in court Saturday morning to hear the decision.

Bastyr, the only juror to hold out for Bragdon's acquittal, is accused of discussing the Bragdon case while acting as a juror and of failing to report the matter when Judge Fish called on jurors to make known any attempt made to get them to talk about the case.

Nearly a dozen witnesses have been subpoenaed for a grand jury investigation of charges of bribery, perjury, witness fixing and jury tampering growing out of the two Bragdon trials.

But there is no doubt in your mind on these points since the Maxwell a short time ago established the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record. Any car that can run continuously for 44 days and nights, averaging 500 miles per day—22,000 miles in all and without once stopping the motor—is bound to be a well designed and well made car.

Any car that can perform such a wonderful feat on an average of one gallon of gasoline to every 22 miles is bound to be an economical car.

We have such confidence in the Maxwell car and the company behind it that we are willing to sell these cars on partial payments—and deliver the car to you when you make the first deposit. In justice to yourself you ought to know more about the Maxwell car and our pay-as-you-ride plan. All we ask is the opportunity to tell you.

PLANS FOR BIG SUMMER RESORT

Resort Hotel at Gull Lake on John Harrison Property, Golf Course Under Construction

F. A. SAVAGE & CO. AGENTS

Minneapolis Men are Taking Over Much Lake Shore Property to be Sold in Acre Lots

The Northern Pacific and Minnesota & International railways keep tab on every development in their territory. W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota & International, in a letter to Henry I. Cohen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, calls attention to the golf course to be laid out on Gull lake. He writes:

"You will note that the point in question is only two miles from Sylvan while it is eight miles from Brainerd. It is to be hoped that everything possible will be done to direct the travel via Brainerd rather than have them go to Sylvan for the purpose of reaching Gull lake."

There is quoted the letter from G. F. Neill, city passenger agent, Minneapolis, to A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent:

"Recently I arranged with F. A. Savage & Co. at 1030 Metropolitan building, this city, for a trip to Winnipeg. He told me at the time he was going up to Gull lake from Brainerd to look over some property owned by the Harrison estate from Kansas City. Yesterday I met Mr. John Harrison through Mr. Savage. These gentlemen inform me that they have under construction a very magnificent golf course on the south end of Gull lake and that they are negotiating with some very large resort hotel people with a view of putting up such a hotel on the lake."

"F. A. Savage & Co. are just closing arrangements to take over a large portion of lake shore property to be sold in acre lots. This is a very aggressive firm in the handling of property of this kind and it looks very much like they would make Gull lake a very popular summer resort if their plans go through. They are about eight miles from Brainerd, but only two miles from Sylvan. However, on account of the change of cars at Brainerd or Staples, it is more than likely that the most of their people will reach the property through Brainerd."

"They expect to make this a very high class proposition and Mr. Savage is figuring on taking his prospective buyers to Brainerd in special hotel cars. I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Moore who may desire to get in touch with Mr. John Harrison at Kansas City."

Little Falls and Fort Ripley will Try to Play Baseball Providing Weather is Propitious

(Little Falls Transcript)
The Little Falls and Ft. Ripley baseball teams will try once more to play a game of baseball here next Sunday. The game has been postponed twice because of rain and wet grounds. Monday Ft. Ripley asked for a game here next Sunday and Manager Berkin has agreed to play them. If the game is postponed next Sunday, it will probably not be played, as a schedule is being made out. Memorial day Little Falls will play at Royalton, June 4 Atkin will play here and June 11 Little Falls will play at Brainerd.

RAIN OR NO RAIN SUNDAY AFTERNOON WEATHER PROPHETS IN SYMPOSIUM

A. P. Drogseth

Tom Wood

Jos. C. Zimmer

O. H. Johnson

Rain is knocking out more Brainerd ball games than ever before in the history of the noble pastime in Brainerd.

With a view of seeing what kind of weather Brainerd will have next Sunday, May 28, the Dispatch interviewed four lights in baseball history. Iron-ton is to make another attempt to compete with the weather man and the game Sunday will be the hottest ever played, providing of course it's a dry town and Jupiter Pluvius does not go to bat. These weather prognostications were secured:

Art Drogseth, treasurer of the Brainerd team: "I don't think it will rain. Brainerd ought to be able to beat any team Sunday."

Tom Wood, heaviest boy in Brainerd: "If my guess has any weight, I think it won't rain this time. Brainerd can't kick, however, for the American League had to quit business Monday, all games being postponed on account of rain."

Joseph C. Zimmer, business manager of the team: "I am willing to bet it won't rain. There ought to be a let up on moisture next Sunday."

O. H. Johnson, president Brainerd baseball team: "Boy, ask me something easy. If my prayers help any it won't rain a drop in town."

In the meantime Iron-ton has had to brace up its team again for next Sunday.

Many fans believe there will be a situation similar to the American league when Plank faced his old team mates and they punched the ball over the fence. Victor, you know, is a pitcher for Iron-ton against the old team mates of the Brainerd nine. He knows their every weakness and thinks he has their batting numbers.

Plank thought he had that kind of a lineup too. With Les Bush in the box, Plank's co-workers did little to break into the hit column and the Athletics won.

Will history repeat itself at Koer-wing field next Sunday? Will Brainerd win against its former pitcher? Will the sun shine?

These are some of the questions agitating Brainerd and Iron-ton fans.

CONFERENCE IN SESSION

Rev. R. W. Gammon to Lecture at First Congregational Church, Closing Conference

The closing annual meeting of the Duluth Conference of Congregational churches has been well attended in Brainerd. The sessions opened Tuesday afternoon and will be concluded this evening.

Prominent ministers from out of town taking part were Rev. E. E. Leshar, D. D., Rev. G. P. Merrill and Rev. Harry P. Dewey, D. D., of Minneapolis. Dr. Dewey preached last night at the church.

The Bible school symposium this morning was led by Rev. Dr. R. W. Gammon of Chicago. Of interest was the report made by Rev. C. N. Thorp of Duluth, delegate to the national council.

In the afternoon Mrs. Thorp presided at the Woman's Missionary Hour. At 4 o'clock the delegates were given an automobile ride about town.

This evening the lecture "When a Feller Needs a Friend" will be given by Rev. R. W. Gammon, D. D., of Chicago. Dr. Gammon is one of the leading speakers of the day and this popular address should be heard by all Brainerd people. The meeting is without charge and free to the public. The First Congregational church doors will open at 7:30 o'clock.

The drug store has that inviting look which attracts trade. Mr. Lammon is featuring very attractive and his displays are window dressing. Coupled with this is a line of newspaper advertising and altogether, "The Store With a Conscience," is going after business and keeping customers.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

A Brainerd couple started for Minneapolis to get married and expected to get their marriage license in the twin cities. The law was explained to them when they got there and the bride-to-be returned to Brainerd for the license.

George W. Moody tells this story of the examination of an applicant for citizenship in Judge Wright's court. Naturalization Examiner Doe asked where the laws were made in Minnesota and Mr. Peterson, the candidate, said St. Paul.

"And where in St. Paul do they make the laws?" asked Mr. Doe.

"The capitol," answered Ole. "Now tell us where the national laws are made," queried the examiner.

"In Washington," was the reply.

"And where in Washington?" asked Mr. Doe.

That seemed to stump Ole Peterson. He thought a while and then replied with a smile: "I expect they meet around some of those first-class saloons."

And the court and everybody else smiled audibly.

FOUNDER OF LOCAL HOSPITAL DEAD

Mother Alexia Kerst, Head of Sisters Hospital, Brainerd, Died After Long Illness

FUNERAL AT DULUTH THURSDAY

For Many Years Active in Religious and Hospital Work Throughout the Northwest

Founder of St. Joseph's hospital in Brainerd and with other good works to her credit, Rev. Mother Alexia Kerst, superioress of the Benedictine Sisters of Duluth and for many years active in religious and hospital work throughout the Northwest, died at St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, on Monday following an illness of about three months. She was 60 years old.

She was born in St. Paul. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kerst, came to America from Rhenish, Prussia in 1852, settling in the present limits of St. Paul. She received her early education at St. Gertrude's Academy, Shakopee, and later at St. Mary's institute, Milwaukee, Wis.

Animated with deep sympathy for the sick, says the Duluth Herald, Mother Scholastica was instrumental in opening a hospital at Bismarck, N. D., in 1885—the first Benedictine institution of its kind in America; a second at St. Cloud in 1886; and two years later a third in Duluth.

Mother Alexia was the first superior of St. Alexis hospital at Bismarck, governing it from 1885 to 1888. In this year she opened up the new hospital in Duluth—the old St. Mary's—and remained in charge here for several years.

In 1899 she became superior of St. Anthony's hospital in Bemidji, where she remained until the foundation of St. Joseph's hospital, Brainerd, and St. Vincent's hospital, Crookston. The construction of these two buildings Mother Alexia personally supervised to a large extent and upon their completion she assumed charge of the hospital at Crookston, where she remained until 1904. Practically all of the time since then Mother Alexia held various responsible positions, the last of which was that of mother prioress of the Benedictine Sisterhood at Duluth.

She endured many serious illnesses during her life but has ever shown herself to be a most patient sufferer, and notwithstanding bodily ailments of various kinds, has ever evinced great strength of character and unerring fidelity of duty.

The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock on Thursday at Villa Sancta Scholastica. Her remains will be laid to rest beside those of her sister in the convent cemetery of Gethsemane.

Benedictine Sisters from Brainerd have gone to Duluth to attend the services. Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, rector of St. Francis Catholic church, will attend the funeral.

TALKS ON BANKING

When You Borrow Money, Go to a Bank—Be a Depositor

In the course of human events it becomes necessary for most people to borrow money. Business men who can make ten per cent, or more out of trading find it profitable to borrow in order to carry on business on a larger scale, discount their bills and carry complete stocks. Others find it desirable at times to borrow for various purposes, and some find it necessary to borrow because they have either failed to save, or have been unable to save and are confronted with an emergency that requires money.

Should you at any time find yourself in such a condition, do not borrow from your friends, go to your bank. That is what banks are for. They live by their loans, and no banker will refuse a loan that meets certain requirements and is in his estimation good. It is proposed in the next two or three talks on banking to tell you what the banker wants to know when you offer him your note. Whether the loan is large or small the same rules apply.

In the first place the banker will expect you to be a depositor. Most banks make it a rule to lend to only those who are customers, and customers mean depositors. If you favor the banker with your account, giving him a profit from the use of your money, he will be glad to reciprocate and let you use his money when you need it and offer the proper security. The rule is well established to lend in the proportion of not over five to one; that is, if you keep a balance of $100, the banker would lend you $500, if he thought well of your credit standing. The greatest mistake business men make is to keep little or no balance in the bank and then expect the bank to accommodate them with loans.

"MICHAEL'S"

recently within the experience of the writer of these talks. A business man wanted a note of $100 discounted to meet his payroll. The banker knew him. His moral standing was good. In looking up the account his balance was but fifty cents. Now what did that indicate? Just this: That the would-be borrower had trusted everybody until his capital was on his books, here, there and everywhere, and he was not collecting his bills. He had no "free money" to carry on his business. He had no working capital. He was "strapped". The banker was perfectly justified in asking the borrower either to make better collections, or get his affairs in such shape that when pay day came he would not have to depend upon borrowed money to pay his men.

Nothing so hurts an application for a loan in a well managed bank as a low average balance, and all good bankers give heed to this factor. Therefore, as a starting point, do your business through a bank, depositing your receipts and making your payments by check, and keep a balance large enough to gain the banker's good will when he looks at his ledgers to see how much of your own money you have available. Don't do all your business on borrowed money, for if the banker finds it out, he won't discount your note.—American Bankers Association.

Billings, Mont., May 24.—Montana's state compensation board has been called upon to decide a novel question—whether a miner shot and killed while on duty by a fellow miner is entitled to benefits under the compensation act or industrial insurance law. W. A. Willis was slain by Nathan Brooke while both were employed in the Pilot Butte mine in Butte. All employees of the mining company were insured under plan No. 2, wherein an insurance company assumes the risk upon payment of an agreed premium. Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasby breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

The Strange Case of Mary Page

The Great McClure Mystery Story, Written by FREDERICK LEWIS, in Collaboration With JOHN T. MINTYRE, Author of the Ashton Kirk Detective Stories

Read the Story and See the Essanay Moving Pictures

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Publications

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Page, actress, is accused of the murder of James Pollock and is defended by her lover, Philip Langdon. Pollock was intoxicated. At Mary's trial she admits she had the revolver. Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man implicates Langdon. How Mary disappeared from the scene of the crime is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print he saw on Mary's shoulder. Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary. The defense is "repressed psychosis." Witnesses describe Mary's flight from her intoxicated father and her father's suicide. Nurse Walton describes the kidnapping of Mary by Pollock and Amy Barton tells of Mary's struggles to become an actress and Pollock's pursuit of her. There is evidence that Daniels, Mary's manager, threatened Pollock. Mary faints on the stand and again goes insane when a policeman offers her whiskey. Daniels testifies that Pollock threatened to kill Mary and Langdon and actually attempted to kill the latter.

IN THE ALLEY

A WITNESS room, like an ocean liner, begets strange friendships in its enforced intimacy, and also has this in common with the great ships, that those who come on deck only toward the close of a stormy passage, find themselves unreasonably ostracized by their fellow passengers who have been daily sharing the excitement of the voyage. Thus the three newcomers among the witnesses in the trial of Mary Page were left sitting primly on a bench close to the door while the incongruous but friendly group of those who had already testified stood near the window.

The trio themselves were oddly conglomerate—a burly man in what were obviously his best clothes, with a collar a size too small and a buxom woman whose flushed face looked out from under a marvelous purple bonnet. Her hands were encased in very large white cotton gloves and she held back her skirts aggressively from contact with the short and elaborate gown of the over-dressed, tired-looking woman whose face was pasty with powder and hard with rouge.

All of the witnesses, for that matter, from the little bell-hop to Mrs. Page herself, surveyed this last comer with disapproval; and Amy declared succinctly that if "Mr. Langdon put THAT on the witness stand—it would be GOOD NIGHT!"

Langdon, however, greeted her with a warmth that more than overbalanced their chilliness, and his welcome to the other man and woman was equally enthusiastic. To him, the presence of these three was a triumph. It meant that he had succeeded where the police had failed, and that he had still another surprise to spring upon the jury in this most astounding trial. Some hint of all this crept into his tone lending it a new, almost boyish note, when, at the beginning of the day's proceedings, he rose and said:

"Your Honor, and Gentlemen of the Jury: Ever since the beginning of this trial one point has remained a mystery. The state has admitted its inability to offer evidence on this mooted subject, and therefore I crave the indulgence of the court to digress from direct proceedings this morning, to show you where and how Mary Page spent those hours between the death of James Pollock and her surrender to the law on the following morning?"

"What?" The startled exclamation was wrong involuntarily from the District Attorney as he half rose from his chair, but it was drowned in the stir of excitement that swept through the entire room. For this had indeed been a mooted question and a decidedly sore point with the Prosecutor—the whereabouts of Mary during those hours immediately following the murder.

"That would be good night!"

of James Pollock and her surrender to the law on the following morning?"

"Miss Page," continued Langdon when the Judge's gavel had restored order, "did not herself know exactly what was happening. As always follows an attack of repressed psychosis, the mind of the sufferer was like that of a patient coming out of ether—a flash of recollection and a stretch of blank unconsciousness; therefore, it is not until now that I have succeeded in piecing together the story of that night, and I shall call as my first witness, Kate O'Neill!"

NORBECK-CUMMINS WIN SOUTH DAKOTA

Aberdeen, S. D., May 24.—Incomplete returns from the South Dakota primary indicate Peter Norbeck won a sweeping victory for the Republican nomination for governor over G. W. Egan and R. O. Richards. His vote will be about three to one.

Senator Cummings won the Republican presidential delegates, being unopposed on the ballot.

In the First district, C. A. Christopherson carried his home city of Sioux Falls and Minnehaha county by 1,299 and probably has defeated Representative C. H. Dillon. In the Second district Representative Royal C. Johnson was renominated by a vote of four to one over his opponent, J. W. Parnley. In the Third district Paterson leads Bartine in a field of five.

On the Democratic ticket Rhinhardt and Morcom are running closer than expected for governor and indications point to gains by the former, especially in the northern part of the state.

LARGE IRRIGATING PROJECT

South Dakota System to Cost One Million Dollars.

Rapid City, S. D., May 24.—The Dakota Power company of this city has received from the state engineer a permit to build a great dam at Pactola, seventeen miles above here in Rapid canyon. The flood waters of Rapid creek will be used to produce 5,000 horsepower of electricity and to irrigate 40,000 acres of land east of Rapid City on the divides.

The project will make possible the raising of crops on lands now fit only for grazing.

The cost of the system, $1,000,000, is to be raised partly by farm mortgages.

TO SUCCEED W. A. GARDNER

Presidents Selected for Omaha and Northwestern Roads.

New York, May 24.—J. T. Clark was elected president of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway to succeed the late W. A. Gardner at a special meeting of directors of the Omaha and Northwestern roads.

A. W. Trenholm of St. Paul, former general manager of the Omaha road, was made vice president, succeeding Mr. Clark, and H. M. Pearce was made general traffic manager.

R. T. Ashton was elected president and director of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, succeeding Mr. Gardner. Mr. Ashton has been vice president in charge of operation.

WALKS BACKWARD ACROSS CONTINENT.

New York, May 24.—Patrick Harmon walked backward from San Francisco to New York.

The trip was made in 239 days, twenty-one days less than the period allotted. In order to see his way Harmon had a mirror strapped to him. The trip was the result of a wager.

Sells Pesos to India.

Manila, May 24.—Jeremiah L. Manning, insular treasurer, has returned from China, where he concluded negotiations for the sale to the Indian government of 7,500,000 silver pesos at a profit to the insular government of 20 per cent.

MEERSCHAUM PIPE ONLY BOOTY OF ROBBERS.

Fargo, N. D., May 24.—Robbers who raided the Fargo Lumber company's office destroyed the safe but obtained nothing but a meerschaum pipe for their trouble—although they caused loss to the company by the destruction of the safe and valuable papers. The robbers found the main safe door open, and forced the inside steel door with a crowbar. They extracted the steel money safe by knocking out all shelving around it, then took the steel box into the lumber yard, where they forced it open.

Prince Albert is sold everywhere in top red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that clever crystal-glass pound humidur with sponge moisture-top that keeps the tobacco in such splendid condition.

PRINCE the national joy ALBERT smoke

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C. Copyright 1916 by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

P. A. puts new joy into the sport of smoking!

YOU may live to be 110 and never feel old enough to vote, but it's certain-sure you'll now know the joy and contentment of a friendly old jimmy pipe or a hand rolled cigarette unless you get on talking-terms with Prince Albert tobacco!

P. A. comes to you with a real reason for all the goodness and satisfaction it offers. It is made by a patented process that removes bite and parch! You can smoke it long and hard without a come-back! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

Prince Albert affords the keenest pipe and cigarette enjoyment! And that flavor and fragrance and coolness is as good as that sounds. P. A. just answers the universal demand for tobacco without bite, parch or kick-back!

Introduction to Prince Albert isn't any harder than to walk into the nearest place that sells tobacco and ask for "a supply of P. A." You pay out a little change, to be sure, but it's the cheerfulness investment you ever made!

"Before entering a pond or stream a moccasin or other water snake fills himself with wind and"—helpfully began Professor Pate.

"The average Hon. does exactly the same before he enters the legislature," interrupted the old codger. "The said wind keeps him afloat on the surface of things for a short time, but when it is finally expelled he either sinks to the bottom or gets out."—Kansas City Star.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a light toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
